Julia: I got some inspiration for this one from “Justice of the Strongest” by Jean Delville and the statue “Le genie du mal” by Guillaume Geefs.

DID YOU KNOW? In 1837, St. Paul's Cathedral in Liege, Belgium commissioned a statue from Joseph Geefs depicting Lucifer, often described as the most beautiful of the heavenly host. He did such a good job that the church deemed the statue “too distracting,” removed it, and commissioned a replacement from his brother, Guillaume. However, the second statue was way sexier. Google it. Seriously. It's worth a look.
